

2019.11.21 RTHK Hong Kong Today

All sides need to calm down: Against Child Abuse

---

All sides need to calm down: Against Child Abuse Listen

A group working on children's rights has expressed concern that the anti-government protests and clashes are leading children to believe that violence can be used to solve problems. "Against Child Abuse" said it's received requests for help from about 50 families, who said they were deeply disturbed by the ongoing unrest. The group's director, Donna Wong, said in one case, two primary-school students took part in a fight, imitating the actions of police and protesters seen on TV. She told Wendy Wong that all sides need to calm down and end the violence:

---

A group working on children's rights has expressed concern that the anti-government protests and clashes are leading children to believe that violence can be used to solve problems. "Against Child Abuse" said it's received requests for help from about 50 families, who said they were deeply disturbed by the ongoing unrest. The group's director, Donna Wong, said in one case, two primary-school students took part in a fight, imitating the actions of police and protesters seen on TV. She told Wendy Wong that all sides need to calm down and end the violence:

參考資料 Reference:

https://news.rthk.hk/rthk/en/news-programmes/this-episode.htm?cmsid=77&episode\_id=607953&livetime=20191121000000